The Lead Story

Three of the six games were decided by less than five points, and one of them turned on a perfect lineup. Sleeper named Zaniac18 the best manager for setting the perfect possible lineup and scoring the maximum, 125.52, and it still lost to NathanR918, 130.28, by 4.76. At the other end, Sleeper's worst manager was Whodatjuan, who scored 83% of a 139.68 perfect lineup (24.36 points left on the bench) and still beat Karrrobi, 115.32 to 100.92, to stay 6-1.

The narrowest game was satiro over Caullyn, 139.08 to 138.58 (0.4%), a 0.50-point margin. mattware1199 posted the high score of the week, 142.52, to beat 00sef, and the middle of the league is a traffic jam: six teams are 3-4.

A note on the numbers: finals, records and awards are Sleeper's, and every lineup total was checked against its player-by-player box score.

PERFECT BUT BEATEN

Zaniac18 Sets the Perfect Lineup and Still Loses to NathanR918

Zaniac18 scored 125.52, the maximum Sleeper says was possible, and NathanR918 beat it 130.28 to 125.52. J. Williams had 26.10 (five catches, 91 yards, two touchdowns), J. Jacobs 20.10 and E. Wilson 18.50, while B. Young managed 7.42 with two interceptions and I. Likely scored 3.20.

NathanR918 (4-3) started the QB of the week: J. Burrow, 28.88 on 292 yards and four touchdowns. Q. Judkins added 23.40, C. Loveland 19.90 and J. Chase 17.20, and the Ravens defense scored -2.00. Zaniac18 falls to 3-4 with $8 of FAAB left.
