Standings After Week 4

4-0: Raymond49, Whodatjuan 3-1: Karrobi 2-2: 00sef, Caullyn, Jer13, NathanR918 1-3: mattware1199, Zaniac18, hogsett7, satiro, JLozoya

The Lead Story

Week 4 comes down to one number: 221.02. 00sef set the perfect lineup, the maximum possible score, and it was 83.5 points above Sleeper's own preview projection (137.53) and 29 points above the old season high. The coin-flip game of the week (51% / 49% in the preview) was no contest: Caullyn scored a season-best 162.68 and lost by 58.

Elsewhere the preview's chalk went 3-3. Whodatjuan, mattware1199, and Raymond49 won as favorites; Zaniac18 (66%), hogsett7 (62%), and Caullyn (51%) did not. The biggest upset by the odds was satiro, a 34% underdog, and both of the league's winless teams (mattware1199 and satiro) finally got on the board. Nobody is 0-4, and two teams are still unbeaten.

A note on the numbers in this issue: finals, records, and awards are Sleeper's. "Preview" projections are Sleeper's Week 4 numbers captured Sept. 29, before the trades and waiver moves that followed, so projection-vs-final comparisons are approximate. This edition works from team totals only; no player box scores.

Whodatjuan Wins Ugly and Stays Perfect as JLozoya Bottoms Out

The One Bite Report — Week 4 Recap

Whodatjuan (now 4-0) was the heaviest favorite of the week at 82%, and it delivered, though not the way the preview drew it up. Sleeper projected 142.03; the final was 109.54, 32.5 points short and Whodatjuan's lowest score of the season. It didn't matter, because JLozoya put up 64.74, the lowest team total in the league this year and 29.7 under its own 94.47 projection.

For JLozoya (1-3) it was the worst of a rough month. The team drops from eighth to last in the power rankings, and it is one of only three teams (with Karrobi and Caullyn) that hasn't spent a dollar of its $100 FAAB budget. The final margin of 44.80 came within three points of the 47.56 gap the preview projected.

THE FINAL

Whodatjuan 109.54 (4-0)

JLozoya 64.74 (1-3)

Whodatjuan by 44.80

Chalk held. Whodatjuan won by 44.80 against a projected 47.56.

The Preview's Oddest Call Pays Off: mattleware1199 Ends the Skid With a Season-High 174.08

The One Bite Report — Week 4 Recap

The preview flagged a first: mattleware1199, 0-3, was favored (58%). It wasn't close. The 174.08 beat its 127.39 projection by 46.7 points, topped its previous season best by almost 56, and was the second-highest score in the league. Jer13 (2-2) scored 129.78, 13.5 over its own projection, and still lost by 44.30.

Per the Sept. 29 lineups, Malik Nabers was in mattleware1199's flex spot, and his 6-catch, 112-yard, one-touchdown game against Arizona works out to roughly 23 PPR points against a 13.75 projection — if he started as projected. The twist: mattleware1199 accepted a trade on Oct. 5 sending Nabers to Zaniac18 for Saquon Barkley, who left the same Sunday after two carries with a hamstring injury. mattleware1199 climbs five spots in the power rankings, the biggest riser of the week, with $54 of FAAB left.

mattleware1199 174.08 (1-3)

Jer13 129.78 (2-2)

UPSET ALERT

satiro Posts a Season-High 153.10 and Takes Down the Preview's Safest Pick

The One Bite Report — Week 4 Recap

Zaniac18 was a 66% favorite, projected 129.16 to satiro's 108.64. It finished 110.20, 19.0 short; satiro finished 153.10, 44.5 over its projection and 25 points above its previous best. At just a 34% chance in the preview, it was the biggest upset of the week and satiro's first win of the year.

Zaniac18 (1-3) falls two spots to eighth and now holds the league's smallest FAAB balance at $45, after paying $65 to claim Ollie Gordon II and flipping him to satiro for Wan'Dale Robinson plus $45 back. The trade review graded that deal about even (1.10×). The injury luck was worse: Saquon Barkley, projected at 14.71 in the Sept. 29 lineup, left after two carries with a hamstring injury — if he started, that alone wipes out most of the shortfall.

THE FINAL

Zaniac18 110.20 (1-3)

satiro 153.10 (1-3)

satiro by 42.90

UPSET. satiro was the 34% underdog and won by 42.90.

Karrobi Edges hogsett7 in the Closest Game of the Week

The One Bite Report — Week 4 Recap

The week's narrowest result, a 9.9% margin, went to the underdog. The preview made hogsett7 a 62% favorite (136.25 to 119.60). Karrobi scored 119.28, within a third of a point of its projection and a season high; hogsett7 scored 108.54, 27.7 short, as the ceiling its roster was built on never arrived.

Karrobi is the league's quiet story: 3-1, alone in third place, yet only tenth in points scored. It has stayed between 105.84 and 119.28 in all four games, the tightest scoring range of any team, and it has not spent any FAAB. hogsett7 slips to 1-3 and tenth in the power rankings with $78 left.

THE FINAL

hogsett7 108.54 (1-3)

Karrobi 119.28 (3-1)

Raymond49 Holds Serve in the Week's Biggest Blowout

The One Bite Report — Week 4 Recap

The preview called this the toughest test an unbeaten team had faced. It wasn't. Raymond49 scored 164.12, 19 above its projection, while NathanR918 managed 90.02, 33 short of its own. The 74.10-point margin (82.3%) was the largest of the week, and Raymond49 (4-0) now leads the league in points scored (660.58) and is the only team above 200 in the power rankings.

NathanR918 (2-2) was also named Worst Manager: the best possible lineup was 118.02, and 90.02 is just 76% of that. The sting is mild, since even that perfect lineup would have lost by 46. The team drops to eleventh in the power rankings and has scored fewer points than any other team in the league (411.56).

THE FINAL

Raymond49 164.12 (4-0)

NathanR918 90.02 (2-2)

The Coin Flip Wasn't: 00sef Lands a Perfect 221.02

The One Bite Report — Week 4 Recap

The preview's closest game on paper (51% / 49%) turned into the biggest score of the season. 00sef set the perfect lineup and scored the maximum possible, 221.02, which was 83.5 above its projection and earned the Best Manager award. Caullyn's 162.68 was 23.3 over its own projection, its best score of the year, and the fourth-highest of the week. It lost by 58.34.

Both teams are 2-2, but the standings tell different stories. Caullyn has now allowed more points than anyone in the league (655.18), the unluckiest schedule in the group, while 00sef owns the second-most points scored (633.36) and rockets from fifth to second in the power rankings. The preview flagged Puka Nacua (Out) and Josh Allen (Questionable) as the swing factors; whatever happened with them, the lineup found 221.02 anyway.

THE FINAL

Caullyn 162.68 (2-2)

00sef 221.02 (2-2)

00sef by 58.34

NathanR918	123.08	90.02	-33.1

Week 5 Watch

Barkley's hamstring. Saquon Barkley is expected to miss at least Week 5, and Eagles coach Nick Sirianni said he'd have more answers Wednesday. mattware1199 now owns him and has $54 of FAAB; SI's early read has backup Tank Bigsby as the top Week 5 waiver target, so that's a natural handcuff to check (if he's still available).

FAAB. Karrobi, Caullyn, and JLozoya still hold the full $100. Zaniac18 ($45) has the smallest balance in the league, followed by mattware1199 and satiro at $54 each.

Power rankings. Raymond49 (204.4), 00sef (183.1), and Whodatjuan (182.2) lead; mattware1199 (+5), 00sef (+3), and satiro (+3) climbed; JLozoya (−4) and Zaniac18 (−2) fell.
